LAPADA the Association of Art & Antiques Dealers is delighted to announce that award-winning investment house Killik & Co will sponsor the 2017 edition of the LAPADA Art & Antiques Fair. The annual Fair, which showcases one-of-a-kind works of art, antiques, design and decorative art will return to Berkeley Square, London, for its ninth edition from Friday 15th to Wednesday 20th September – this year bridging two weeks.

Founded more than 30 years ago on the belief that the benefits of investing should be accessible to all, Killik & Co is one of the few remaining independently-owned investment houses serving private clients. The Partnership prides itself on transparency, offering expert, impartial advice and guidance that enables a wide-ranging client base to achieve the life they want to live through a personalised service that builds their lifetime savings.

To launch the partnership, Killik & Co will host the first in an ongoing series of talks and events at its London headquarters on Grosvenor Street (13th June), during which LAPADA members - Anthea Gesua of Anthea AG Antiques, Hancock London's Amy Burton and Aimee van Kranendonk Duffels from VDK Jewels - will discuss the history of jewellery collecting in a panel titled History & Heritage: Collecting Antique Jewellery. This series aims to encourage the public to engage with the specialist knowledge and passion of LAPADA's members, empowering every individual to learn from their deep expertise, and to develop a discerning eye.

Mieka Sywak, LAPADA Fair Director, commented: "We are delighted to welcome Killik & Co as the LAPADA Fair's new Principal Sponsor. Killik & Co offers traditional, personal expertise combined with a thoroughly modern approach to long-term investment and return. Though we operate in different fields, we felt a strong synergy with the Killik & Co team from the moment we met. The LAPADA Art & Antiques Fair's comparable aims of celebrating heritage and our exhibitors' expertise, in combination with a contemporary understanding of their objects' meaning and worth, is a natural fit with Killik & Co's own values. We are very much looking forward to working with Killik & Co to make this year's return to Berkeley Square the best yet."

Paul Killik, Founder and Senior Executive Officer of Killik & Co, commented: "The LAPADA Fair is known for its diverse visitor base and the knowledge of the specialists who exhibit, which appealed to us greatly as an organisation founded on a dedication to expertise and empowerment. We are thrilled to be part of the Fair for the first time this year and look forward to working with the team to make it extra special."

The LAPADA Fair, which last year attracted over 20,000 visitors from the UK and abroad, is situated in Mayfair's elegant Berkeley Square, the heart of London's most exclusive neighborhood. This year the Fair coincides with Killik & Co's House of Killik, an investment pop-up on Bateman Street, London Fashion Week (15th – 19th September) and the 20/21 British Art Fair, which takes place for the first time at The Mall Galleries, St. James's, London SW1 (13th – 17th September).

Over 110 prominent specialists are brought together for a week, offering highly sought-after works in a broad variety of disciplines. The Fair is an opportunity to discover objects and discuss them in person with dealers who freely share the expertise that makes the LAPADA Fair such an exceptional experience.

The LAPADA Fair is the flagship event of LAPADA the Association of Art & Antiques Dealers, the largest society of professional art and antiques dealers in the UK. Visitors can buy with confidence in the knowledge that each exhibitor, as a member of LAPADA, must adhere to a strict Code of Practice and an expert committee of 70 specialists is assigned the task of pre-vetting every piece individually for authenticity.
