

The LAPADA Treasure Hunt

1. You find yourself in the lobby, surrounded by colossal creepy crawlies, and noisy nightingales. Do you think you can keep count of all the snails around the Fair? Don't forget to check upstairs!

3. Prowl up the main path just at your left, keeping your eyes on the walls. Who's the mane man in the frame marching proudly onwards? You won't find him lion around!

2. Head on to the centre stand at the front. In gold their odds of fluttering off are low, they were better off on our walls. But can you spot our winged friends?

4. I spy a lady, covered in fans, lounging with Rebecca, on the largest of stands. You'll have to shuffle slightly onwards to have a chance of finding her

5. Paddle yourself round the bend, down to near where we began, until you find a stand piled high with silver. 2 sailors, 1 Ethiopian Chief, his 2 servants and their elephant are stuck on a desert island... Can you spot them amongst this treasure trove?

9. Accelerate round to the right, then broom around the bend. Continue your route down the long road. They keep you waiting, then three come at once! What's speeding past on your right?

8. Spin around on the spot and seek out a stand behind you. It's crowded with bronzed bodies; dancers, mermaids and beasts. Can you try and pick a favourite, from all these sculptural treats?

6. Dribble, tackle and shoot your way round the corner and through to the next tent, can you spot twenty-two of your fellow footballing friends shrunk down to a miniscule size?

10. For your final test, make your way down to the crossroads. Brace yourself for what awaits you on the corner, once full of chatter but now locked in stone, you'll have to be wise to chew these from the line up'

7. Saunter up the long boulevard, past Paris on your left. Wait, can you hear howling?
